

Communication on Progress (CoP) – year 2010

Istrumenti Misure Elettriche Spa (IME) joined with enthusiasm and conviction the Global Compact project established by the United Nations believing that the managing of a business, an economic interest and the pursuit of profit and growth can and especially must deal daily with ethical and moral principles.

The ten principles of the Global Compact are fully reflected in the intentions of IME and are summarized in a coherent and rational willingness of the same company to run a task once ethical rules which increase the value of every human action. This will make everyone interacting with the company like an active part of a process that begins with this fundamental declaration in order to become an incentive and intellectual, moral and material benefit for this one and all future generations.

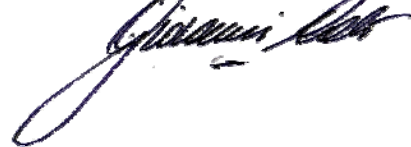

The commitment that IME wants to lavish in this sense is set and synthesized into this statement of intent with the specific purpose of writing a daily tool for action.
